

Affidavit

I am aware that an electronic message center / electronic message displays sign may contain a static message or messages that change. Each message displayed shall remain fixed for at least 8 (eight) seconds. When a message changes, it must be accomplished in one (1) second or less using a static/instant method. Methods such as dissolve, fade, travel or scroll modes, or similar transitions and frame effects that have text, animated graphics or images that appear to move or change in size or be revealed sequentially rather than all at once are not permitted. Full motion or animated displays are not permitted. All electronic message centers shall be equipped with automatic dimming capabilities so that they do not exceed 0.3 foot-candles over ambient lighting conditions when measured at a recommended distance, based on the size of the message center. I have been advised to consider Article 1359 of City Code prior to purchasing and installing the proposed sign.
