Additional Charges Filed in Wheeling Island Drug Case

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
April 16, 2019

A Cleveland man is facing more charges from an April 11 drug arrest on Wheeling Island.

In addition to four counts of possession with intent to deliver, the suspect, now identified as Rayshawn Ligon, 37 of Cleveland is charged with forgery of an official document and fugitive from justice.

Ligon lied to police and provided a false name of Timothy Norman.

Ligon's case stems from a call that was made around 7 p.m., Thursday, April 11 when officers were sent to the 400 block of North Wabash Street for a report of suspicious activity involving a vehicle. When officers arrived and made contact with the occupants, they noted an odor of marijuana present.

The suspect, Rayshawn Ligon got out of the car and ran from police, but was caught a short time later. During the investigation, officers discovered a large amount of crack cocaine, in addition to heroin, cocaine, marijuana and prescription pills.

Ligon as arraigned by an Ohio County Magistrate and sent to jail.
